Official Course Description

Environmental and resource issues, with emphasis on topics such as climate change, sustainability, ethics, planning, policy and decision making, and management strategies. Case examples highlight issues in resource sectors such as freshwater, oceans, parks and wildlife, tourism and recreation, forests and energy.

Course Objectives:

- to examine and understand key concepts, knowledge and different perspectives surrounding the human-environment interface and its inquiry;
- to gain an understanding of the effect of human activities on a range of natural resources globally, including the uncertainty, complexity and conflict that characterize their use and management;
- to gain a deeper understanding of the global and local dynamics driving current environmental problems and sustainability challenges through examples worldwide

Course Learning Outcomes:

The Department of Geography is committed to student knowledge and skill development. The table below lists the key learning outcomes for this course, the program-learning outcomes they facilitate and the expected level of achievement.

Course Learning Outcomes	PLO(s)	Level(s)
Students should be able to explain concepts and values critical to the study, management and understanding of our environment.	1,2,3,4,5,7	2
Students should be able to conceptualize the distribution, use, extraction and impact of global natural resources, the effects of human activities on a range of natural resources globally, and aspects of the uncertainty, complexity and conflict that characterize both the use and management of resources globally.	1,2,3,4,5,7	2
Students should be able to apply concepts for maintaining and sustaining the environment as a resource.	1,2,3,4,5,7	1
Students should be able to evaluate environmental problems and issues of sustainability within select world regions through case study examples.	1,2,3,4,5,7	2

Students should be able to explain the basic fundamentals of globalization in relationship to the environment.	1,2,3,4,5,7	2

PLOs = Program Learning Outcomes: 1 = reflect and communicate diverse human-environment perspectives, 2 = identify and explain human-environment processes, 3 = implement sampling, data collection, analyses and communication methods, 4 = analyze spatial and temporal aspects of human-environment systems, 5 = employ knowledge, arguments, and methodologies for solving human-environment problems, 6 = evaluate geospatial data and manipulate it to create cartographic products, 7 = communicate geographic concepts using oral, written, graphic, and cartographic modes, and 8 = demonstrate literacy skills.*

Levels: 1 = Introductory, 2 = Intermediate, and 3 = Advanced.*

Prerequisites: No prerequisites required.

Learning Resources:

Robbins, Paul; John Hintz and Sarah A. Moore (2014) Environment and Society – A Critical Introduction. Second Edition. Wiley Blackwell, Malden MA. (required)

Note: The first edition (2010) of the textbook is sufficient as well. Occasional cross-checks with a class colleague’s newer version are recommended.

For further details, course materials and updates posted throughout the term, please check the course space in Desire2Learn online at <https://d2l.ucalgary.ca/d2l/home>.

Grading (Weighting):

Midterm I	35%
Midterm II	35%
Final Exam	15%
Tutorials	15% (participation 8%, topic presentation 7%)

Only pens, pencils and erasers are allowed in exams. No other materials or electronic devices are allowed during examinations and other course assessments. The final exam will not be scheduled by the Registrar’s Office. It is not essential to pass all components to pass the course as a whole.

Grading Expectations and Tips:

1. Attend all lectures. Attendance is closely linked to success in any course. Textbook readings, other used materials and documentaries are intended to enrich and reinforce input presented in the lecture, but they are not substitutes for attending the lecture. Similarly, lecture slides are just brief summaries of what the lecture discusses. Listen, take notes, ask questions, discuss with others, and critically review the material, to learn.
2. Check D2L regularly for new lecture slides, further readings, current updates, grades, corrections, class cancellations, announcements, etc.
3. Know your class colleagues, and be in touch with them. Discuss the material together. Consider meeting regularly as a study group. You can build your own support system that makes learning easier, more effective, and helps you if you miss a class or an important announcement.

Grading System:

96 – 100	A+	76 – 80	B	58 – 61	C-
91 – 95	A	71 – 75	B-	54 – 57	D+
86 – 90	A-	66 – 70	C+	50 – 53	D
81 – 85	B+	62 – 65	C	0 – 49	F

The instructor reserves the right to adjust exam grading in order to reflect student performance more fairly.

Missed Course Assessments:

See below for rules regarding documentation for absences or missed course assessments. At the discretion of the instructor and department, accommodations may be offered such as a deferred exam at a set time. A deferred exam should be completed within five business days of your return to campus.

Supplementary Fees:

n/a

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

Principles of Conduct

The University Calendar includes a statement on the principles of conduct expected of all members of the university community (including students, faculty, administrators, any category of staff, practicum supervisors, and volunteers), whether on or off university property. This statement applies in all situations where members of the university community are acting in their university capacities. All members of the university community have a responsibility to familiarize themselves with the principles of conduct statement, which is available at: www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html.

Plagiarism, Cheating, and Student Misconduct

The University of Calgary is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect.

Academic dishonesty is not an acceptable activity at the University of Calgary, and students are strongly advised to read the Student Misconduct section in the University Calendar at: www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-3.html. Often, students are unaware of what constitutes academic dishonesty or plagiarism. The most common are (1) presenting another student's work as your own, (2) presenting an author's work or ideas as your own without adequate citation, and (3) using work completed for another course. Such activities will not be tolerated in this course, and students suspected of academic misconduct will be dealt with according to the procedures outlined in the calendar at: www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-5.html.

Instructor Intellectual Property

Information on Instructor Intellectual Property can be found at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/Intellectual%20Property%20Policy.pdf>

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) legislation in Alberta disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place, such as outside an instructor's office, the department office, etc. Term assignments will be returned to students individually, during class or during the instructor's office hours; if students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they must provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment.

Human subjects

Students in the course will not be required to engage as participants or researchers in any research on humans.

Use of laptops and electronic devices

There are no restrictions on the use of laptops and tablets in class if they are used to take notes or find information relevant to the class, and if there is no disturbance or distraction of other students or the instructor. Phones must be turned off during class, unless you have previously identified yourself to the instructor as a health care or law enforcement professional.

Posting of Grades and Picking-up of Assignments

Graded assignments will be returned by the instructor or teaching assistant personally during scheduled lecture or laboratory periods, unless they are made available electronically through the course D2L webpage. Grades and assignments will not be available at the Department of Geography's main office.

Academic Accommodations

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations, according to the university policies and procedures listed in the University Calendar.

The student accommodation policy can be found at: www.ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy. Students needing an accommodation because of a disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Students needing an accommodation based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need, preferably in writing to their instructor or the Department Head (email: david.goldblum@ucalgary.ca).

Documentation for Absences or Missed Course Assessments

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform the instructor as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html>

Copyright Legislation

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html>) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Act.

Wellness and Mental Health Resources

The University of Calgary recognizes the pivotal role that student mental health plays in physical health, social connectedness, and academic success and aspires to create a caring and supportive campus community where individuals can freely talk about mental health and receive supports when needed. We encourage you to explore the mental health resources available throughout the university community, such as counselling, self-help resources, peer support, or skills-building available through the SU Wellness

Centre (Room 370, MacEwan Student Centre, <https://www.ucalgary.ca/wellnesscentre/services/mental-health-services>) and the Campus Mental Health Strategy website (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/mentalhealth/>).
